

CICERO ANDERSON IN TOILS AGAIN AFTER VACATION

Leader of Escaping Prisoners and First of White Fugitives Captured.

Well Known Young Desperado Back in Jail.

SUSPECTED OF OTHER CRIMES

After being at large from the county jail for more than two months on a charge of unlawful shooting, Cicero Anderson was recaptured at the home of his mother on South Third street near Tennessee street at 4 o'clock this morning, the opening day of criminal court. His arrest was just in time for his appearance before the grand jury on a charge of shooting and wounding Andy Boyd, colored, in a crap game several months ago.

A report of the robbery of Patrolman H. H. Doyle's residence at Sixth and Elizabeth streets, was turned in just after 3 o'clock, and Mrs. Doyle told the police the intruder resembled Cicero Anderson. The police, suspecting Anderson of the robbery, decided to lay a trap at his home, and Patrolmen Croes, Vick and Hickman were put on the job. They surrounded the house of his mother Mrs. Annie Anderson, and rapped at the door. Anderson was inside and seeing no chance to escape, surrendered to the officers. He was placed in the county jail again.

Anderson escaped from the county jail at noon July 10, with twelve prisoners. The escape was made through the north wall. Anderson with Dave Stagle and Archie Hotton, alleged brass thieves, are said to have done the work. Anderson's arrest makes the first white prisoner recaptured while all of the negroes were caught soon afterwards.

Anderson had served a short term for murder and was pardoned. A hold-up on the south side the night after his escape was generally attributed to him.

Peary Refused Permission to Take Cook's Records on the Roosevelt and Proof Can't be Made for Year

They Are at Etah, Whence Dash Was Made For Pole, and Arctic Winter Will Prevent Their Recovery.

New York, Sept. 27.—The statement from Etah Harbor by Whitney that Peary compelled him to leave Cook's records and instruments at Etah caused a wider breach between the two explorers. Scientific men today declare it will be a year before Cook's claim is finally proved or disproved. They say no matter what the records show they must see the instruments to make a decision. As the arctic night will set in and gather before the ship can reach Etah it will be at least twelve months.

Cook Says Misstatement.
New York, Sept. 27.—Cook today said as soon as Peary has made definite charges he would answer. He declared he couldn't understand Peary, refusing to take the American flag and other articles, belonging to Cook, aboard the Roosevelt. He said Peary's statement that he couldn't talk Eskimo and make sledges was a misstatement.

Peary Replies.
South Harpswell, Me., Sept. 27.—Stirred to action by Whitney's approach to civilization, Peary left here this morning for Etah Harbor to consult Hubbard, concerning the launching of an attack on Cook. Asked whether he would go to New York soon, he said: "The Roosevelt is now on her way there. I will board her and pass Sandy Hook on the bridge, and tell the people I am the real discoverer."

Concerning Whitney's charges about Cook's baggage and being forced to leave the Roosevelt, said: "I have only this to say: Whitney's accusations will not help Cook. Cook did not reach the pole. When I finish with him I will have proven Cook never reached the north pole."

Peary Refused.
New York, Sept. 27.—Commander Peary refused to allow any records or instruments of Dr. Cook brought aboard the steamer Roosevelt, and thus was instrumental in causing these records to remain in the cache at Etah, Greenland, according to Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman, in a dispatch received in this city by Dr. Cook today. The message came as a response to one sent by Dr. Cook. Whitney is now en route to New York.

Dr. Cook made no comment on Whitney's message. He said he had duplicates of all the records and observations. He denied the report that he intended to bring suit for slander against Peary.

"I shall wait," said Cook. "The absence of records and instruments will not affect the ultimate result a particle, but it would be desirable to have the instruments here."

"As to the question of proof, that is the name, whether observations are made by one person or more."

"I am sure Peary had no means of getting any news of me since the middle of April, but he knew I had gone south."

"The remark that has been made that I copied Peary's sledges is nonsensical. I have not seen him for over two years, so I could not have copied his ideas."

"I have entered into no arrangement to meet Peary at any time."

Whitney En Route.
St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 27.—Wireless dispatches received here state that the schooner Jennie, bringing Harry Whitney back to New York left Indian Harbor for St. Johns.

The Roosevelt Arrives.

Portland, Me., Sept. 27.—Peary's ship, the Roosevelt, arrived at Eagle Island, Commander Peary's summer home, and after landing some of his personal effects, left for New York.

It was learned from a source close to Peary that he justified his refusal to allow Dr. Cook's instruments or records on board the steamer Roosevelt on the theory that he had been aware some time of Cook's intention to claim discovery of the pole and that he (Peary) therefore would sanction nothing to aid this object.

Peary's forthcoming statement, it was learned, will charge that Dr. Cook cannot produce the shoes, sledges or other equipment which will show wear and tear that comes from travel over the arctic ice. This is the first intimation of any specific evidence Peary will produce.

MISS BROWNING'S FRIENDS ARE NOT READY TO GIVE UP

Insist That She Must Retain
Her Position Until Successor is Elected.

Consolidated School Muddle
Not Settled.

MANDAMUS SUIT IS LIKELY

Friends of Miss Eleanor Browning contend that the telegram from Mr. Thomas B. McGregor, assistant attorney general, that the vote of County School Superintendent W. A. Middleton was legal, has nothing to do with the case, and that Miss Browning will not relinquish the consolidated school at Lone Oak until directed to do so by an order of court. The supporters of Miss Greenville Harrison have not been anxious to go to court with the trouble, but it is probable that a mandamus suit may be taken out to force Chairman W. R. Davis to sign a contract. Should this be done the question of Middleton's vote would be settled finally.

Miss Browning is teaching the grade as a substitute, and will continue in the school until another teacher is elected. An effort has been made to call another meeting of the division board so that Superintendent Middleton may be present and vote in case of a tie, and end all trouble, but no meeting has been called. Chairman Davis said he would not sign any check for a teacher until the court has decided who is the teacher. When the board met and deadlocked, Superintendent Middleton had resigned and Superintendent Middleton had not qualified. After the board adjourned Superintendent Middleton having qualified in the meantime, cast the deciding vote in his office in favor of Miss Harrison. Miss Browning's friends declare the vote was illegal.

JAMES LANG FINDS GOOD TREATMENT IN GRAVES COUNTY

James M. Lang has just returned from the fair at Mayfield with Rebel Dare and his two-year-old colt, "Dorothy Fowler," by Rebel Dare. Rebel Dare won first in the combined saddle and harness ring; first premium in the saddle stallion championship, and first in the best saddle horse, mare or gelding sweepstake, the latter being the classic event of the fair. Mr. Lang says that he was accorded most excellent treatment by the good citizens of Graves county, and that, next to Paducah people, those in Mayfield are the best on earth.

Swaying of Houses and Rattling of Windows.

Felt at Cairo.
Cairo, Ill., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Cairo experienced the earthquake this morning. Quacks in hotels were awakened by the force of the shock, but no damage was done.

Wierd Experience.

The sensation of being awakened early in the morning by a shaking of the whole house is weird, and many strange experiences are related. One woman, who reached consciousness just as the quake ended, had a creepy feeling, as though a snake was crawling across the room, and got up to investigate.

One man called to his wife that he had a splitting headache, and she said he had felt the same way. Just at the time the quake came. Shortly after breakfast a friend in another section of the city called him up to talk about the earthquake and the first statement she made was that she and her husband had each been attacked with a splitting headache just after they felt the quake. Others in the city had a similar experience.

PALISADES SAVED.
New York, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The Interstate park, with fourteen miles of river frontage, was dedicated today. It contains the most picturesque portion of the Hudson river palisades. In 1899 a contractor from whom it was bought, was about to destroy them for rock quarries. The work has been going on since then. It covers 700 acres and was bought by private subscriptions, nearly $200,000 being donated by J. P. Morgan.

boasted of clear conscience.

Paducah and all western Kentucky felt the earthquake shock at approximately 3:45 o'clock this morning. The motion seemed to be east and west, and reports from Clinton, Wickliffe, Mayfield, Benton and Smithland to The Sun this morning confirm the hour and direction of the motion. The strongest brick houses were rocked, so that sleepers were awakened to feel a giddy sensation, as their beds swayed for a few seconds. The duration is generally estimated at about five seconds. Doors and windows rattled, but so far as reported from Paducah and adjacent towns, no chimneys were dislocated or stovepipes disturbed.

Attorney J. R. Grogan, who was awake at his office in the Fraternity building at this time described the quake as coming in two strong shocks in close proximity and then a slight shock a few seconds afterwards. A drinking glass on his table was almost upset. Others were aroused by a rumbling. Some described it as being a long wavy motion with a slight vibration after the quake.

The quake was felt stronger by those in brick buildings. Residents in Arcadia felt it distinctly and the family of ex-Mayor D. A. Yelder were awakened by the creaking walls and shaking beds. No damage has been reported in this vicinity.

The petit jury will be empaneled tomorrow, and the real work will begin.

He said it is a violation of the law and punishable by both a fine and imprisonment. Judge Reed also laid emphasis upon the disturbing of public worship. He also instructed the jurors upon embezzlement, and the different degrees of murder, and cautioned on the jurors the necessity of keeping secret the deliberations of the grand jury.

News of Theatres

The management of the Kentucky Gertrude Ewing company for one week starting tonight with a dramatization of Ouldha picturesque military play "Under Two Flags," with special scenery and costumes. Vaudeville plays a big part with the company and six high-class artists are carried for this occasion, including the Desmond trio, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mounts and Harry Dautery. Miss Ewing will give Paducah an even better than more expensive attraction than when she last visited the city and as "Cigarette" in "Under Two Flags," she will be seen in a part that affords her many opportunities.

During the engagement Miss Ewing will wear the newest pre-war creation "La Pantalón" costume, which was recently worn by a living model at the Jura races at the French capital. Ladies will be admitted free on the opening night under the usual condition, one lady and gentleman or two ladies will be admitted on one 30 cent ticket if reserved at the box office before six o'clock this evening.

"Fluffy Ruffles," which will be at The Kentucky theatre soon, with Florence Gear in the title role, has been styled "the speediest musical comedy in years." Its fun is fast and hilarious, but always clean and wholesome. "Miss Gear sets a pace from the very start that keeps her many associates in the fun-making constantly on the jump. Everybody who saw the delightfully amusing performance that this dashing comedienne gave in "Marrying Mary" last season will appreciate that in "Fluffy Ruffles" she is certain to keep things humming from the start to the finish.

With each recurring visit of "Way Down East" new beauties are discovered in Little Blair Parker's long-running New England comedy drama. On this the eleventh anniversary of the play's premier, the thought occurs that of all the rural dramas of modern times none has offered such a choice collection of prospective victims for the humor man, the gold-brick vendor, or the lightning-rod agent, as are shown in the characters pictured in this piece. Usually in plays of this kind, referred to in the vernacular as the "rural drama," one finds a series of grossly exaggerated characters. In "Way Down East" the authors have clung closely to nature, with the result that the play carries greater conviction than is generally found in stories of life down on the farm. Of course, there can be more pleasing subjects about which to weave a theatrical tale than that of the much-wronged sorely persecuted heroine. But it seems the lot of the country born damsels to be snared by city-bred villans with smooth ways and dress suits, and so one must not blame Mrs. Parker for depending upon a much blamed female for principal climaxes. We have the country quartette, the snow storm and "Hi Hollar," as a combination sugar-coating for the damsel in distress, a fact which makes her more delectable than usual. The company contains many old friends and the same careful attention to detail as in former seasons.

TO DARKEN THE HAIR.
Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition. As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur. If properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

HIGH WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON

PADUCAH GRIDIRON WARRIORS CLEAN UP METROPOLIS.

Break Lines of Illinois High School for Score of 15 to 0.

COACH CRAIG WAS PLEASED

Victory rested on the shoulders of the brawny players of the High school football team Saturday afternoon at Metropolis, when the opening game was played. Paducah won by a score of 15 to 0, and for the first game of the season exceptional football was shown. The first half went 20 minutes while the second was 15 minutes and throughout the Paducah lads held together like a wall.

Metropolis kicked off and Wilhelm after catching the ball on the ten yard line returned it within short distance of goal, and by steady rushes the ball was carried over by Wilhelm for the first touchdown. Goal was missed and the score was 5 to 0 in favor of Paducah. In the first half Metropolis got the ball and on a fake forward pass crossed the Paducah goal line and by kicking goal the team was in the lead by one point. Early in the second half Burton was pushed over the line for a touchdown, but a second goal was missed. Both teams struggled up an down the field until Browning got the ball and made a sensational run for the length of the field for a touchdown and thus Paducah clinched the victory 15 to 0, as three goals were missed.

Coach Craig was pleased with the work of the team, but this week hard practice will go on, as the hard games are to come yet. Corbin for Metropolis played a star game while Silas, Wilhelm and Browning did the stellar work for High school.

At Chicago University.
Chicago, Sept. 27.—Maroon football players finished their first week of practice at Marshall field with an all-day drill. Coach Stagg wound up the first stretch with a fierce open scrimmage in the afternoon, with hundreds of maroon fans on the side lines getting their first squint at the squad.

Both Page and Rogers tore off some pretty quarter back runs during the mix-up, but they devoted most of their time to practicing with the other formations. The first touchdown, made by Kaskuter, the new end, was a sensational piece of work. Kaskuter going over the line with Gerend pushing him after the ball had been worked down the field on open field plays. Sunderland scored the touchdown for Rogers' team. He got off a number of classy punts, sending the ball an average of 45 yards.

The opening with Purdue promises to be the biggest ever for an initial contest. The boiler-maker forces will bring a crowd of retainers with them, and the Purdue alumni in Chicago intend to be on hand in a body.

Chances for Winner Bright.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 27.—The first week of Michigan's preparations for the football season has passed, and in that time the prospects of the Wolverines for a winning team have steadily brightened. The display of optimism in the Michigan camp is due not so much to the news that two veterans, who had not been expected, will be here, with possibly a third, as to the surprising showing being made by the new men. With Captain Aldrich, Wasmund, Henbrook, Watkins, Ranney, Loell, Riley and possibly Casey in the squad, Michigan will have no less than eight "M" men trying for the team, which of itself is causing Yost considerable satisfaction.

With plenty of substitute back field material Yost is doing this season what he has long wanted to do—playing fast, shifty men in the line.

The surprise of the season to date, aside from the announcement of the return of Loell and Riley of the veterans, and Edmunds and Conkling of the promising new candidates, has been the work of Henbrook and Bertrand. Yost has been working Henbrook, formerly a guard on the team, at center since the first day of practice, and to the surprise of everyone, including Yost and Henbrook himself, the big Chicagoan has shown well at the new position. Wasmund, quarter back for two seasons, is again with the team and is handling the signal practice more accurately than ever. The squad will break camp at Whitmore Lake next Saturday night, working on Perry field opening Monday afternoon—the day before the opening of college.

Notre Dame Lacks "Heavies."
Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 27.—Dearth of heavy-weight material for halfback and line positions has been the cause of some uneasiness for Coach Langman the past week. With scarcely enough men to fill out two teams for scrimmage practice, things will look serious if any of the regulars should happen to be disabled during the early games of the stiff schedule which begins October 16, when Rose Poly's warriors under Jesse Clark trot out to Cartier Field.

Wilce Badger Kicking Star.
Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—The leg work of Wilce is the real feature of the early practice at Wisconsin. The big badger captain is booting the ball from 40 to 50 yards, with good elevation, and his swinging form reminds one of Pat O'Dea, the best kicker Wisconsin ever had. Wilce in fact booting the ball every afternoon for nearly half an hour. Strange as it may seem, Moil is doing no kicking. He reports early every afternoon and is sent to the gym early. He runs the team in signal practice, minus the signals, and takes part in catching punts and tossing the ball.

Reckle expects to jump into the line in great earnest in a few days. He is in good condition, and that may be why Barry intends to hold him off.

Until the real work begins the badger rooters will not have the faintest idea of what combination Barry intends to use this fall. Buser, the great freshman star of last year, is essentially a tackle, he has always played that position and is a demon on defense. With a pair of tackles like "Butch" Boyle and Oshoff, it is hard to understand just what course Barry will follow. Early indications add to the confusion. Arpin appears to be the first candidate for center to succeed "Jumbo" Stohm, but the badger coach is giving Buser special training in snapping the ball. He also plays him at tackle and guard.

To date the practice has been open and has been held on the lower campus. This coming week the squad will number 60 and the practice will be held at Camp Randall.

Motorcyclists on Six Days' Race.
New York, Sept. 27.—The first six days' motor cycle race ever held began at Brighton Beach race track at 12:01 a. m. to continue until 10 p. m. next Saturday. Five teams started. All the competitors are amateurs. A. G. Chappelle, of the New York Motor Cycle club, despite an injury to his arm received in practice, covered 20 and a half miles in the first half hour of the race. This is faster than an automobile ever went over the Brighton track.

Record is Broken.
Pasadena, N. J., Sept. 27.—Lake De Rosier, world's champion, broke the five mile motor cycle record at Clifton Stadium. His time was five minutes and 7 2-5 seconds. Elmer Colling of Boston, won the 25 mile motor paced race, the first race of a series to decide the middle-distance championship of America.

GOOD ACTORS IN ARCTIC WEATHER

B. B. HOOKS' FINGERS NEVER ONCE NUMBED.

Give Wallersteins Doubtful And Are Joyful Over Its Accomplishment.

CHILLY TIME ON THE DIAMOND

Revenge was sweet yesterday afternoon for the B. B. Hook baseball team when the Wallersteins team went down in defeat by the decisive score of 10 to 4. Chilly weather made the spectators huddle in groups in the annals while the fingers of the players were numbed, and more than one ball was thrown away. However, the game was interesting because of the rivalry between the two teams, and the scoring did not end until the ninth inning had passed away.

Several things may be attributed for the victory of the Hooks. Council was in rare form, and the way he whipped 'em over the pan made more than one Wallersteins lay down his bat and quit. Fifteen batters had done that in the nine innings. Then the hooting of the Wallersteins was a big factor. The players thought the weather was ideal pignish weather and tried using feet instead of hands in toying with the sphere.

Hofflich started the game for the Wallersteins, but several passes coupled with a hit or two resulted in three runs and a lead for the Hooks that was never overcome. Runyan went in the box in the sixth round, and despite the fact he struck out 11 men, the run getting did not stop owing to the bobbles.

In the first inning the Hooks lead off with three runs, and the Wallersteins obtained one count, and for a few minutes it looked like a tight game, but in the third and fourth innings the Hooks annexed four tallies, and the lead was too big to catch. Features of the game were the pitching of Council, and Runyan, who fanned 11 men in four innings. Council was effective at critical moments, and fanned hard hitters like Harry Mercer and Robertson three times. Burton in left field for the Hooks made a grand stand catch of a fly from Robertson's bat, while for fly around second station. Both Mercer and McKee, catchers, did good backstopping.

The score was:
Hooks 10 6 4
Wallersteins 4 5 4
The teams lined up: Hooks—Gallagher, ss; Burton, lf; Cox, 3b; G. Harper, cf; Malone, 1b; Marcor and M. Gallagher, rf; Goodman, 2b; McKee, c; Council, p. Wallersteins—H. Mercer, 2b; Heenan, 1b; Carroll, ss; Runyan, 3b; Robertson, ss; Ford, cf; H. Mercer, c; Hofflich, p.

Diamond Dust.
Next Sunday the Mount City, Ill. team will play the B. B. Hooks at League park. So far the teams have divided two games and the game next Sunday will decide the better team.

Only a few more games of the national sport will be played on town grassplots until the football giants will sweep up the diamonds.

Quite a few batters fanned the me yesterday. Hofflich fanned five men in five innings. Runyan eleven in four innings and Council 15 in nine innings.

The Wallersteins won one game from the Hooks, and now the victory yesterday was especially joyful for the Hooks.

How is your stenograph this morning?

Kentucky is proud of Louisville's baseball team.

President Taft's text in the Mormon Temple, "A soft answer turneth away wrath," was excellent advice for the wives of the prophets.

It must be some satisfaction to Fulton and Hudson, on the other side of the Styx, to think that there are no controversies over their achievements.

Maybe that seismic disturbance this morning was only a premonitory symptom of the shaking up that is coming to McCracken county in November.

The Illinois Central has refused to electrify its terminals in Chicago, on account of the expense, and the city may go into court to compel abatement of smoke nuisance.

Harry Whitney's arrival in New York is looked forward to with even more interest than the arrival of either Peary or Cook. It's a fine thing to discover the pole; but even a finer thing to be the man that carries the dope.

PARASITES.

Mars is fifteen million miles near or the earth than for fifteen years. The flaming red planet may be seen shortly after sun down, rising from the eastern horizon, and almost in the zenith early in the night. Mars is one of the most interesting mysteries the old earth knows of.

These cold nights, too, the moon shines like a round piece of silver in the sky, and two-legged parasites stuck fast upward to a revolving satellite of the sun, stand on the streets and gaze into the blue heavens and wonder.

It is good for a man to turn occasionally from his despicable little schemes to get the best of his fellow men, his petty political tricks, his cynicism and self-assurance, and gaze off millions of miles into space, and think, if he can, whence came these shining worlds his eyes behold, who established the law of gravitation that holds them in place and what it is. Some men seldom consider anything out of their ward, or trade or experience. It is good to realize not only how little we know, but how little we are.

PINCHOT.

Several days ago, while the air was full of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, we said the resignation of Mr. Pinchot would hurt the administration at this time, more than one could estimate, and that Mr.

Pinchot's retention would discredit those who are abusing Secretary Ballinger.

Mr. Pinchot has publicly announced his determination to remain in the public service, and President Taft has made public a letter he wrote to Mr. Pinchot, assuring him of the administration's confidence in his ability, integrity and judgment, and earnestly requesting the chief forester to remain with the administration and perfect the work he has so ably carried on thus far.

Mr. Pinchot is rich, high strung and independent, and it is not likely he would remain in office under any sort of a slight or feeling of humiliation, though, no doubt, his enthusiasm and patriotism have induced him to disregard some things that one less in earnest would consider an affront. It is evident that there never was any personal feeling between the head of the department of the interior and the head of the forestry bureau, though a difference of opinion on a matter of policy obviously did exist, and was carried to the president.

Mr. Pinchot, who was cordially hated by some westerners in the early days of the conservation policy, has won the admiration of the country and the respect of his former traducers, and his attitude during the recent incident adds to his credit. Mr. Pinchot is in the forestry department to save the forests, not for the salary of the office, nor to execute his own whims; and he has steadfastly kept his one ultimate purpose in view. When a man keeps his eye on that, side issues and temporary obstacles and misunderstandings never assume undue importance. A man of smaller calibre, might have had his head turned by the praise heaped on him and the confidence reposed in him by President Roosevelt. A man like Pinchot is too rare.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

The Sickness of the Democratic Party

That the Democratic party in National affairs has fallen to a state of inefficiency is not the accusation of its opponents. It is the confession of Democrats themselves. At Saratoga, New York, week before last, several hundred Democrats of the state met in conference for the purpose of limiting, if possible, some way of restoring the vitality of the party in state and nation. The conference might well be likened to a consultation of physicians over a sick patient. First the members had to diagnose the disease and then suggest a remedy. Mr. Thomas M. Osborne and Mr. Edward M. Shepard, two of the conspicuously public-spirited men in the state, who have rendered great public service, both found a cause for Democratic decline in the character of the leadership. "In other relations of life," said Mr. Osborne, "one does not look to gather grapes from thorns or figs from thistles," and he declared that the only way to bring success to the Democratic party was to intrust its political machinery to men of intelligence and character. And Mr. Shepard warned the Democratic organization of New York City, which is everybody knows, consists in the main of unsavory Tammany Hall and its no more savory Brooklyn rivals, that it would only injure the party in state and nation if it should give offense in the character of the men it was about to nominate for city offices. In the first place, then, it is patent that many high-minded Democrats thoroughly distrust their party leaders. In the second place, there was some feeling, evidently, that the Democratic party had been unfortunate in its declarations of principle. Some evidently felt that the party was prone to attempt the revivification of dead issues; others felt that it had not been true to the principles it had espoused. The conference adopted a platform which included strict construction of the Constitution, support of legitimate federal activities, resistance to federal encroachment, tariff for revenue, economy, popular election of United States senators, nomination and election reforms (though not specifically direct nominations), anti-imperialism, a federal income tax, and, most significant of all the confinement of the creation, taxation, and regulation of corporations to the states. If Democrats wish to seek reasons for the inefficiency of their party, they need look no further than this platform. The absorbing problems of today are those concerned with industry—the concentration of wealth, the organization of capital, the rights and powers of labor, the protection of the natural sources of wealth and their proper use for public benefit. The struggle is between those who wish to let industry remain unregulated and those who are determined that the nation shall be sovereign over its creatures and preserve its own possessions. That struggle is a vital and real one, and, politically, it is keenest within the Republican party. While this vital struggle is in progress, the Democratic party has stood aside. In this Saratoga platform there is but one reference to this whole industrial problem, and that is the futile suggestion that corporations, though they be national in scope, inter-state in activities, and hindered by the federal courts, should be left to the supervision of the states. As soon as the Democratic party takes a stand on one side or the other of the great struggle that is paramount in this country, it will become vitalized; but until it does that it is negligible.—The Outlook.

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN

Mr. Percy Paxton returned Friday afternoon from Monterey, Mex., where he had been for thirty days adjusting the fire loss of the Sutherland Medicine company, whose branch office there was damaged five weeks ago by fire. The loss was about $7,000 covered by insurance. Work of rebuilding the damaged part is in progress and the plant will be in full operation in a short time, manufacturing the products for the Mexican markets.

Capt. Saunders A. Fowler, of the Paducah and Cairo Packet company and secretary of the Paducah Commercial club, had a close call to death yesterday at Mound City, Ill., while aboard the steamer Dick Fowler, which is undergoing repairs on the mainline ways there. While he was in conversation with Capt. James Smith on the fall of the boat, workmen were busy with sledge hammers. Suddenly Mr. Fowler heard something whiz past his head, taking his hat along with it. One of the hammers had slipped from a workman's grasp and had hit him a fraction of an inch closer Mr. Fowler would have been killed outright.

The Rev. Vaughan Dabney, formerly a Paducah boy, has accepted the pastorate of a fashionable church in Chicago, and yesterday preached his inaugural sermon. He has been located at Stephenville, D., until called to Chicago.

"Disturbances of the telegraph wires of the country by the aurora borealis saves the reputation of those gentlemen, who thought they saw Halley's comet in the zenith the other night and heard a hissing sound," remarked an amateur astronomer today. "They saw the aurora, and history contains many instances in which it is asserted that observers heard hissing and crackling sounds. These gentlemen say their attention was attracted to the light in the sky by the sound they heard. It seems to be conclusively established that the aurora is an electrical discharge and the generally accepted theory is that it is due to some magnetic disturbance, and the light may be occasioned by the passing of the current from one magnetic pole to the other, as the lines of light seem to take the same direction as the curves of the magnetic meridians. Some people think the discharges take the form of ordinary thunderclouds under certain extraordinary conditions. The gentlemen, who heard that sound and looked up, may congratulate themselves on seeing a marvelous and unusual sight in the heavens."

AT THE CHURCHES

At Good Shepherd House.
An immense congregation greeted the Rev. D. C. Wright at the Good Shepherd House in Arcadia last night. Meetings will continue there every night this week. There were more men than women last night. Bishop Woodcock will arrive from Louisville Wednesday and preach at the Good Shepherd Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

At Grace church yesterday morning a text taken from the story of David, who asked for a drink of water from the well of Bethlehem. Just outside the gate. From the story of the three men's devotion in breaking through the enemy's lines and securing the lion for their captain. Dr. Wright drew a touching and profound lesson in courage, devotion and the power of memory.

Revival Begins.
The revival at Guthrie Avenue Methodist church began auspiciously last night. The Rev. J. J. Smith formerly of Clinton, but now of Texas, will preach every day at 2:30 and night at 7:15. A large congregation heard him last night.

Installation.
Installation of officers took place yesterday morning at the German Evangelical church with German service, special music was also enjoyed.

Sunday School Convention.
The Sunday school convention of the McCracken County Sunday School association will take place at Lone Oak October 13 in the Lone Oak Methodist church. At that time the Lone Oak Methodist church will be dedicated by Bishop Headrick.

No services were held at the German Lutheran church yesterday as the pastor, the Rev. William Grother was out of the city. Regular services will be held next Sunday.

W. C. T. U. Convention.
Next Friday the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will convene in Lexington, and continue in session until October 5. Mrs. Frank Dunn will be the delegate from Paducah, and she will leave early Friday morning. Prof. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh, Ind., E. C. O'Hear of Lew J. Houchens and M. J. Fanning will be the leading speakers.

First Baptist Church.
The three accounts of the transfiguration were used by the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, yesterday morning as his sermon. He compared the three stories and drew the lessons from the scene on the mountain. He said that the beautiful things in life come only after hard work, and the apostles saw the transfiguration only after they had struggled up the mountain for many hours. They exhausted they fell asleep.

Broadway Methodist.
Two large congregations were present yesterday at both services at the Broadway Methodist church. The pastor, the Rev. Grant T. Sullivan filled the pulpit, and in the morning preached on "The Wedding Garment." A class of five members was received in the evening he preached on "The Treachery of the Last Hour." His sermon was concerning the disgraceful life of Judas and applying it to modern life and finding how many traitors were abroad. A chorus choir has been organized at the church, and sang for the first time at yesterday's services.

Tyler Church.
The Tyler Methodist church was dedicated yesterday with the inauguration of a revival. The Rev. G. W. Banks preached the opening sermon in the morning, and in the afternoon the Rev. G. T. Sullivan preached. In the evening the pastor, the Rev. A. E. Scott, filled the pulpit.

Cumberland Presbyterian.
Seven additions to the Cumberland Presbyterian church were had yesterday at two splendid services which were attended by large congregations. In the morning the pastor, the Rev. D. W. Fooks, preached on "Workmen for God," and in the evening his theme was "Fishers of men." A revival will begin October 12, and the Rev. D. W. Fooks will be assisted by the Rev. J. B. Oakley of Dyersburg, Tenn. Hilda will be opened this week for the painting and repairing of the church. The Christian Endeavor society will do the work, and on its completion the revival will begin.

Tenth Street Church.
Two large congregations were present yesterday at the Tenth Street Christian church to hear the Rev. C. E. Jackson's report on the convention at Lexington. The report proved very interesting and instructive. The meeting of the official board of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday evening to take up the work of reorganization and to plan improvements. The Rev. E. B. Landis is getting acquainted with the needs of the church and predictions are made for the most successful epoch in the Kentucky Avenue church's career.

Cairo Does Honors of Host to Fleet of Naval Vessels on Way Up Mississippi.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 27.—Close to 15,000 people yesterday visited the four grim looking sea lighters of Uncle Sam, lying at the foot of Sixth street in the Cairo harbor. A goodly number were there during the two hours in the forenoon when the vessels were open to inspection, but the great mass went from 1 to 5 p. m. and some stragglers came after 5 o'clock and were disappointed because they were too late and could not be admitted. The visitors were well handled by the officers and men in charge and all were courteously treated. No unpleasant incident marred the occasion, either at the landing or anywhere in the city; and all concerned, the public and the ship's officers, were pleased to see the vessels, judging from expressions heard at all hands.

A most grave walk had been laid down the levee slope by order of Mayor Parsons which made going and coming easy.

Van Osten's Mound City band came down at 2 p. m. and gave the charm of music to the occasion, playing almost continuously for an hour or two, and adding much to the pleasure of the public.

The four vessels lay yesterday in the same position in which they were landed the day before, the McIntosh, 246 feet long, hugging the landing barges, and the three others, 175 feet long each, lashed to her on the outside. From the top of the levee slope they had a forbidding aspect, like four huge bull dogs crouching for a spring at some menacing foe. This morning they left for the upper Mississippi. Commander Mitchell says they will be at Chester probably Tuesday and then go on to St. Louis. In that port they will be one of the attractions for the centennial celebration which opens October 3 and will remain there until President Taft comes on October 25 and be in the Cairo harbor again on the morning of October 26 to take coal and be ready to accompany the president's fleet down the river in the afternoon of that day.

Social Events Yesterday.
While the street, or open air demonstration yesterday was all that could have been wished for (to which, by the way, the weather man contributed his share, the day being of Pittsburgh, Ind., E. C. O'Hear of Lew J. Houchens and M. J. Fanning will be the leading speakers.)

The 6 o'clock dinner at the Alexander club room was more imposing, but equally informal and agreeable all around. This was attended by ten of the eleven officers of the flotilla, one, Midshipman J. W. Tarnett (navigating officer) remaining with the flotilla as required by the rules of the service. The officers who were guests of honor here were: S. S. McElmough—Lieut. W. L. Mitchell, commanding; Midshipman I. J. Hrosek, executive and engineering officer; Assistant Surgeon W. H. Short, fleet surgeon; Assistant Paymaster M. C. Shirley, fleet paymaster.

E. S. A. Thornton—Lieut. C. A. Blakely, commanding; Ensign Joseph Taylor, executive and navigator. E. S. A. Wilkes—Ensign G. C. Logan, commanding; Ensign G. C. Logan, executive and navigator. E. S. A. Thues—Ensign W. C. Nixon, commanding; Ensign W. F. Cochran, Jr., executive and navigator. These were sandwiched in between citizens of whom the invitation list included the following:

W. H. Wood, W. H. Sutherland, E. A. Smith, J. S. Aisthorpe, Major Parsons, Judge W. N. Butler, W. H.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.
Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Paducah Child Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame back or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Paducah people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. Henry Scanlon, 1027 South Third street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I suffered considerably for about a year from a weak and aching back together with pains across my kidneys. It was difficult for me to bend over, and lifting was out of the question. I knew that all my troubles came from inactive kidneys, and accordingly, when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, I decided to give them a trial. The first few doses relieved me and as I continued taking the remedy, the pains in my back gradually disappeared. I was soon restored to good health. Doan's Kidney Pills have my heartiest recommendation."

Mr. Aisthorpe as chairman of the entertainment committee presided at the board, but it had been understood that the affair would be informal and that there would be no speech making. This was strictly adhered to and a very excellent repast was partaken of amidst a hum of conversation. The bill of fare prepared by Manager Tell for the occasion was served in courses and consisted of Martini, cream of potatoes, fried oysters, shoe-string potatoes, chicken Maryland, French fried potatoes, green peas in cream, fried corn, sliced tomatoes, Mumm's Extra Dry, apple and peach pie, ice cream and cake, coffee and cigars.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Aisthorpe announced that no speech making was in order and he would call upon no one, but laytied all to come up stairs and enjoy the freedom of the club house, which they did till well along in the night.

Two of the officers, Commander Mitchell and Lieutenant Blakely, were very earnest in their expressions of satisfaction over the manner of their reception here, declaring that the hospitality shown them in Cairo surpassed anything they had met with on their trip up the river. Lieutenant Blakely said he wrote this to his relatives in Boston.

The Sailor Boys.
While the officers had a good time yesterday the men also enjoyed themselves. They were on "shore leave" and wandered about the city in groups, making acquaintances and friends of citizens as they went. Some of them left very favorable impressions upon some of the ladies of the city if appearances count for anything. The boys visited the various places of interest under the guidance of citizens and seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

At night Capt. W. P. Greeney, of Company K, and a number of his "boys" did the honors at the armory. Nearly a hundred of the "blue" fellows were there and they were served with a luncheon—solid and liquid refreshments to their hearts' content. An orchestra made music while they feasted and after the feast there was an interchange of views upon all manner of things and there were some "stag" dances and a lot of good cheering which left no doubt that all were having a good time. The company broke up about 9:30 with "three cheers and a tiger" for Captain Greeney and Company K, given by the sailor boys at the suggestion of one of their number.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Stitzel-Thompson.

The End (Ola.) News says:
"Exceedingly simple, the impressively beautiful was the wedding of Miss Myrtle Stitzel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stitzel, to Mr. E.
J. Thompson, which took place at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, 517 W. Elm. The house decorations were carried out in a pink and white color scheme. The stairway in the hall twined with dainty asparagus and bowls of pink roses lent their beauty and fragrance to the scene. The archway between the hall and parlor was a veritable bower of pink and green. A jangle of smiles interspersed by pink roses and maidenhair ferns, was used most artistically in its makeup. To the strains of the sweet Mendelssohn march, played by Mrs. C. C. Smith, the bride and groom, followed by their attendants, Miss Eva Stitzel and Mr. R. G. Beahout, of Wichita, descended the stairs and took their places beneath the arch. It was here that Rev. L. C. Walter read the solemn Presbyterian ritual which made them man and wife. After the ceremony the guests were served to a delicious wedding supper at a prettily flower trimmed table in the dining room. The bride gown was of the sheersat mousseline with trimmings of valenciennes lace. A large arm bouquet of bride's roses completed the toilette. The maid of honor's frock was of cream silk with lace trimming.

A WHEAT-MEAT

That sounds strange. But it's true.
It refers to Faust Brand Spaghetti, the great American wheat food that has won thousands from the meat habit and added a staple article of food to vegetarian fare. A Wheat-Meat!
Think of it! Imagine
If you can a food as nourishing as meat—that ing—that never becomes tainted—that is so clean, so cheap and so adaptable for everyday consumption as to be beyond compare. Such a food is Faust Brand Spaghetti. Serve it a new way every day—for dinner or supper.

There'll be no regrets. Keep it always that old question, "What to Cook."

AUTOMOBILE OVERTAKES
FAST COUNTRY DRIVERS

In a chase that led over a mile Patrolman Emile Goureaux ran down lupert and Frank Gross, two countrymen, Saturday afternoon in the automobile of Dr. B. L. Bradley.

Both were fined in police court today for fast driving. The men had started out from the city, and according to witnesses, they were bent on a white horse and going at a fast gallop, scattering people right and left. Patrolman Goureaux saw them and Dr. Bradley consented to follow in his auto. The run began at Fourth and Jefferson streets and at Twenty-fourth street and Broadway
the men were placed under arrest.

000,000, Ryan-Helmont Interborough Metropolitan company, president of the Chicago and Alton, president of the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad, a director in many other important companies, and one of the most potent figures in the financial and business life of the city, has been sued for $200,000 damages by the husband of a woman whose affections he is charged with alienating. Through his lawyer, Delaney Nicoll, Mr. Shonts declares he is the victim of one of the strangest cases of mistaken identity on record. It would seem, according to Mr. Nicoll, that the president of the Interborough Metropolitan has some evil double for whose misdeeds Mr. Shonts is being held responsible. As to who this double is there is no hint.

FALL FAIR

PLANS ARE DISCUSSED BY THE DIRECTORS TODAY.

Season Tickets Will Be Distributed Among Merchants—Many Horsemen Are Coming.

Directors of the Paducah Fair association met this morning at 10 o'clock at their office on South Third street and completed arrangements for the big fall fair and races to be held at West End fair grounds October 5, 6, 7 and 8, inclusive. It was decided to issue two season tickets for $3, and no less than two being sold to an individual. A ticket similar to that of last year will be in use this year.

The selection of judges for the races was left in the hands of C. L.
Van Meter. Information has been received from W. L. Tolbert, of Peoria, Ill., that he will arrive in the city next Monday. Mr. Tolbert will be the starter for the races and his coupling is hailed with delight by race horse men and the public, as his previous work here has won him much popularity. A. S. Thompson, one of the directors, will leave tomorrow for Memphis in the interest of the races, and will secure more entries. In speaking of the entries Secretary Davis said they were coming in fast. A representative of the association will be sent to Mt. Vernon, Ill., in a few days to look out for good strings of horses and advertise the fair.

Wea Flowers, who has charge of the fair grounds, is building big pens and arranging the place for the stock and poultry exhibit. A. S.
Thompson today placed workmen on the race track, which will be scraped and rolled down and put in the best of condition. The association has secured Prof. William Deal's band to play every morning and afternoon. No definite arrangement has been made for the carnival.

Directors Tom Stahl, Ben Weille and A. S. Thompson will be out among the merchants of Paducah this week, distributing the season tickets, which will be placed on sale at once. Some have already been disposed of.

All of the tickets, badges and mark tags are on hand in the association offices and little remains to be arranged for the big meet. The directors were very much encouraged this morning and thousands of people are expected to flock to the grounds daily to see the exhibits and races, which will probably be the best ever held in Paducah. Nothing will be left undone and the association is exerting all efforts to make the fair a huge success. Present this morning were: Messrs. Ben Weille, A. S. Thompson, George
Goodman, Tom Stahl and Rodney Davis.

Mattoon, Ill., Officers Indicted.
Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 27.—Charles T.

TAFT TALKS IN MORMON PULPIT

SELECTED OLD TEXT FROM THE BOOK OF PROVERBS.

We Can Learn Much From People of Southern Climes, in Matters of Courtesy.

THE SOFT ANSWER HAS THEM!

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 27.—In the pulpit of the Mormon tabernacle here, where four years ago President Roosevelt preached a sermon on right living and good citizenship, President Taft preached to a great crowd a sermon appealing for amity between the people.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger," was his text, selected from the book of Proverbs. After the tabernacle services, the president reviewed about twenty thousand school children. At one point along the line a thousand children were arranged as a living flag. The president then proceeded to the Young Men's Christian Association, where he addressed an audience entirely of men. Lastly the president attended a service especially arranged for him at the Unitarian church. He left Salt Lake City at noon for Ogden, where he enjoyed an eighteen-mile ride through Ogden Canyon and made an address at Lester park.

When Senator Snoot introduced the president to the audience in the tabernacle, the cheering was so great that he could not begin his address for several minutes.

After thanking the audience for the splendid greeting, the president said: "My text is one that has forced itself upon my mind during the last ten years with especial vigor, because I have come into contact with Oriental people and with those descended from the Latin races of Europe, and have a chance to compare their views of life and social customs with those of the Anglo-Saxon race."

"We Anglo-Saxons have accomplished wonders in hammering out against odds that seemed insurmountable, the principles of civil liberty and popular government and showing to the world their benefits. But it seems to me we have ignored some things that our fellows of south or north climes have studied. We have much of courtesy and politeness to learn from them. A man's life in his family is not made up of grand stand plays, but of little acts and self-restraints that make up a man's character."

"If we yield to negligence in little things and are not attentive and not courteous to everyone, we are going to cut down that higher character that we assume to have under greater exigencies when we are showing forth our friends of the southern climes and our Oriental friends we may well learn more courtesy and politeness, more real, genuine desire to make everybody happy by little things of life, which, after all, constitute nearly all there is in life."

In closing the president said: "I urge less acrimony in public discussion and not to charge dishonesty and corruption until you have real reason for doing so. I regret to say that throughout this country the administration of the criminal law and the prosecution of criminals is a disgrace to our civilization; but it is one thing to prosecute a criminal when you have evidence and another thing to ascribe motives to a man when you have no evidence."

Greek Napoleon. A Greek scholar has called attention to a very curious coincidence about the name of Napoleon. If you take away the first letter of his name you have "napoleon;" take away the first letter of that word and you have "poison;" do this successively down to the last syllable and you have "leon," "con" and "on." Put these several words together in this order, Napoleon or oleon leon con opoleon poison, and you may translate it roundly, Napoleon being the lion of the peoples, went about destroying cities.

NEW GAME FOR SPORTSMEN.

Known as the African Mud Fish, Living in Dry Times, in River Bottom.

A fine specimen of a remarkable West African fish arrived alive in England recently. The creature is known as the mud fish, and, as its name implies, lives in the mud at the bottom of rivers. It looks very like an ordinary fish, except for its long, curious fluke. It was enclosed in a thin coat of dried mud, and lined with mucus from its body, and perforated with a small aperture, to admit of breathing. This "cocoon," as it is called, dissolved when the fish was placed in warm water. The habit of the mud fish, to make an earth chamber at the bottom of the river, is the most wonderful provision of nature for the exigencies of the climate. The rivers which it inhabits are liable to periodic droughts. When such a drought is imminent the fish retires to deep water, and digs a complete drying of the river. But the most interesting fact about it is that it breathes air during its imprisonment through a hole in the "cocoon" by means of the lungs, just like a land animal. When the retreating rains dissolve the mud, out comes the fish, breathing through the gills, like the rest of the finny tribe.—London Spare Moments.

WATERWAYS MUST BE IMPROVED

CONGRESSMAN SLAYDEN IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

He Calls Attention to Canals of Germany and Sees Great Future in America.

HIVENS AND HARBORS MEET

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27. (Special.)—Congressman James L. Slayden, of the fourteenth congressional district of Texas, who has continuously represented the San Antonio district in the last six congresses is an enthusiastic supporter of improved waterways. He believes that ultimately the navigable streams of the country will be improved to the best possible advantage along the lines suggested by the national rivers and harbors congress in its platform will carry a major portion of the produce of the farms and factories and that the money spent for their development by the government will prove a most wise and beneficial investment.

Congressman Slayden belongs to the builders of the country and his vote has always been cast for every project that makes for better conditions in the nation. Speaking of the needs of more rational treatment of the waterways of the United States on the part of the general government Mr. Slayden said:

"I expect to see duplicated in this country what has happened in Germany. For a while after the railways were built the river and canal business of the various German states declined almost to complete extinction. Then the work of deepening and broadening channels and of generally improving the waterways was begun and now greatly to the advantage of that mighty empire, the bulk of German freight, at some period in its movement to the market, or for its entire distance is carried by water. There has been a steady reduction in transportation charges both by water and by rail and yet the steamship company and the railroad have both prospered in the realm of the Kaiser. It is true that the national legislature of Germany has passed laws favorable to water transportation and it would not surprise me whatsoever to see enacted in this country laws made in the interest of water borne freight as against rail freight for that is the only way, in my judgment, that the rehabilitation of the rivers of the country can be brought about.

"In England and in the United States on the advent of railways the authorities were guilty of the incredible folly of selling or abandoning state owned canals. Now they are repenting. I know of one canal in Virginia that was sold to a railway company that diverted the water filled the channel and built a road upon it. It would have been better for the state and better for the people to have had both canal and railroad.

"As for the Mississippi it is the greatest canal in the country. If it is made deep enough to float great vessels from Chicago to New Orleans the influence of that fact will be reflected in the way of competition for hundreds of miles on either side of that mighty stream. My state will be benefited with the rest of the country when this is brought about. Of course there are other great projects, like the Ohio and the Columbia which need similar treatment as the people along the Mississippi are asking. The same condition of affairs will obtain in Texas when the Trinity and the Brazos are made navigable, and when this is accomplished, as it must be, in the general scheme of water betterment, the Lone Star state will feel the thrill of deeper markets for its products than it does under the present conditions. The improvement of the waterways in my mind, is in no wise antagonistic to the railways. I want to see them prosper. I wish every shareholder in them could receive reasonable dividends regularly and I don't believe that the improvement of the rivers and the deepening and the widening the canals will postpone that day. In my opinion it will advance it."

The national rivers and harbor congress, to which Mr. Slayden has made reference, will meet in its sixth annual convention in the city of Washington on December 8, 9 and 10 when it is expected 5,000 delegates will be present from every section of the United States to impress upon the federal congress the importance of making the improvement of the waterways of the country a distinctive feature of legislation.

MILLION MILES OF POOR ROADS

SPEECH BEFORE TEXANS HELPS MOVEMENT.

Loss Suffered by Country Annually
Through Poor Roads—Roundly
Estimated at $25,000,000.

NEW JERSEY LEADS STATES

New York, Sept. 27.—Much interest has been manifested among railroad men and advocates of good roads by the recent speech of B. F. Yoakum at Lakewood, before Gov. Fort and his farmer guests from Texas and the southwest.

Mr. Yoakum, who is president of the Rock Island system, said:

"The report of the good roads department of the government shows that New Jersey has constructed better roads for less money than any state in the Union, the average cost being $2,346 per mile. This opportunity to observe the methods employed by New Jersey is of untold benefit to the gentlemen on the tour of investigation of public highways.

"The vast and splendid country lying west of the Mississippi river constitutes 6 per cent of the entire area of the United States. Its rapid growth and development have called for the best railroad facilities of the country. That same country west of the Mississippi is now calling as loudly for public highways to handle the products of the soil to the railroad stations as it has for the last fifteen years called for better railroad facilities to carry them to markets. Good railroads and good public highways go hand in hand. The highest efficiency of the farmer cannot be reached so long as he must contend with mud holes and swollen creeks without bridges.

Progress Rapid.

"Twelve years ago one of the roads with which I am connected was able to handle only 132 tons to a train. It today hauls 257 tons in one train. This was made possible through improvement of track, engines and cars, which additional improvement has cost many millions of dollars. The same principle applies to the farmer with his locomotive.

"Our country has the best railroads in the world. The public highways which the farmer must use from his farm to the railroad station connect with the railroads, and when improvements make a continuous good road from the farm to the market. The agricultural department of the government shows that $250,000,000 is lost annually to the farmers and others using highways on account of the excessive cost due entirely to poor roads.

"The more the subject of our public highway improvement is studied, the more we are convinced of its importance to the welfare of the entire country. The question of financing such public work, as to how the burden should be borne, is yet to be determined, if the work is to be pushed as it should.

Gives Estimate of Cost.

"There are now over 2,000,000 miles of public highways in the United States, of which approximately 1,000,000 should be improved to take care of present necessities. Taking the cost per mile in New Jersey as a basis, it would require a billion dollars to improve 500,000 miles. This would be a heavy expense for the states or counties to finance, but it could be accomplished through the government's credit by loaning the states funds under proper restrictions on an interest basis of 2 per cent, per annum, with a light sinking fund.

"Of the $250,000,000 shown by the government report as lost by reason of poor public roads, the western states' proportion is so large that they could well afford to pay the interest on $1,000,000,000 as the work is carried on for the next ten years. If this were done these states west of the Mississippi would make a saving of more than $100,000,000 annually, according to government reports."

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

TAFT'S ITINERARY TAKES HIM INTO THE NORTHWEST.

Whitney's Home Coming Will Mark
Another Stage in Pole Controversy—Peary May Go to New York.

HUDSON FULTON FESTIVITIES

Washington, Sept. 27.—President Taft's itinerary this week takes him into the northwest. From Ogden, Utah, the president goes to Butte, Mont. Thence he goes to Spokane and Seattle and to Portland, Ore., where next Sunday will be spent.

The homeward trip of Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman, to whom Dr. Cook delivered some data concerning his north pole expedition, affords a new feature in the polar controversy. Whitney is making his way down the Labrador coast in the relief steamer Jeanie. Cook will lecture at Carnegie's hall, New York, this evening. Peary may go to New York this week, but it has not been settled definitely.

New York city will be given over this week to the Hudson-Fulton celebration. Aviation exhibitions by Wilbur Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss will be features.

Among the important foreign events, will be the international balloon races at Zurich, Switzerland, Thursday, and the aviation contests at Berlin Sunday.

At Zurich, the American aviator, Edward Mix, will operate the balloon "America No. 2," the only dirigible that will be entered in these contests. In the heavier-than-air matches at Berlin, America may be represented by Orville Wright.

Religious forms easily become caskets in which faith is buried.

Fourteen apocryphal books of the Bible are recorded.

from Mound City, Ill., where she has been on the marine ways for repairs, about Wednesday. She will lie up here until there is more water.

Pushing a coal digger and a flat the towboat Reaper, owned by the West Kentucky Coal company, went aground at Great Northern light, below Ogden's landing, yesterday afternoon and was unable to free herself. The harbor boat Harth was sent to her aid at 2 o'clock this morning and succeeded in getting her off. The Harth returned this afternoon while the Reapei will proceed on to Donaldsonville, La., to aid in the work of raising the sunken coal and barges included in the sunken Harvester's tow.

Leaving Evansville at noon yesterday the Henry Harley arrived in port about noon today with a good trip. She returned immediately and will be the Evansville packet Wednesday. There will be no boat in this trade tomorrow.

With a derrier boat the towboat Nellie went up the Tennessee river today.

The Royal is towing spokes from the Tennessee river for the Little's spoke factory. She formerly was the Paducah-Golconda packet.

All of the regular daily packets are enjoying good trade at present and more passengers are being brought in by steamboats than probably ever before, especially at this season.

Announcement

To all users of Heating Stoves in Paducah

We want to announce that we have received word from the Cole Manufacturing Co. of Chicago that we may sell their marvelous Cole's Hot Blast Heater on the most remarkable guarantee basis ever made by a heating stove manufacturer.

Please read the statement just as made to us by the President of the Cole Manufacturing Co.

Read What Mr. Cole Says:

"You are authorized to sell the Original Cole's Hot Blast Heater this year on the most rigid guarantee ever made by any stove manufacturer. Our guarantee to every customer of yours is—

- "1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- "2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with same size fire pot.
- "3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- "4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.
- "5—A uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
- "6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
- "7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.

"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and set up with a good flue.

"(Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO.,
(Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This is a wonderful guarantee to users of heating stoves. It is just what our customers want and is a guarantee from one of the great manufacturers and puts us in the lead of all dealers.

We know Cole's Hot Blast from A to Z.

It is the Original Hot Blast Stove now imitated by so many other manufacturers. It is the patented features giving an everlasting air-tight and gas-tight construction and the patented Hot Blast draft as Cole uses it, burning the wasting gases in the coal that make Cole's Hot Blast the greatest fuel saver ever known, while imitations fail.

We know 60,000 are sold every year. The biggest selling heater made, by all odds.

It is a wonder. It has proved by years of use that no heater at twice the price approaches it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little care, never giving trouble—and cutting down the coal bill one-third to one-half.

And the price of heat for the winter is what determines the cost of a stove. Remember that.

Right here we want to say that

Our Price of Cole's Original Hot Blast is $12 and upward, according to size.

Please remember, readers, that we are guaranteeing this stove against any heater, size for size, at any price.
We sell all sizes, price according to size.

One season's use will cut your fuel bill in two and give you satisfaction such as you never believed possible with a heater. Will you come in and see?
